

Molson's Bank Robbery

The Mystery Cleared up, Robber Arrested and Money Recovered.

Winnipeg, Aug. 10, '99.

New and startling developments have arisen to call to the public mind the great Winnipeg bank robbery of over nine months ago, when $62,000 was abstracted from the safe of the local branch of the Molson's bank, and no clue left whereby the criminal might be traced. On Wednesday J. L. Anderson, who was a clerk in the bank at the time of the robbery and had afterwards resigned, was arrested charged with the theft of $60,000 of the $62,000 stolen was recovered from the ground where it had been buried. The thief and the stolen money were located by J. Davis, a young private detective who came from the eastern provinces attracted by the reward of $5,000 which the bank offered for the recovery of the money and the additional $2,000 for the conviction of the robbers. Davis entered into employment in a mercantile establishment in the city and shadowed Anderson, of whom he was suspicious. He also succeeded in worming his way into the ex-janitor's confidence and his suspicions were strengthened by remarks dropped by the suspect. On Sunday night Anderson left his room and headed for the city limits, with Davis close upon his heels. Anderson crossed the Louise bridge and Davis followed and when the ex-bank clerk stopped in the brush near the Red River the detective was close at hand. Apparently Anderson went only to see that his cache was safe, but Davis saw enough to confirm his suspicions and next day with a witness and a number of bookholder laborers he re-visited the spot and after some digging recovered the money about three feet down. It was in a valise and being in a low lying piece of land the bills were soaked and mouldy. Anderson came up for preliminary hearing this morning but was remanded for a week. The bank has paid over the promised reward to Davis.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, AUGUST 10th, 1899.

SESSION NOTES.

OTTAWA, Aug. 1, '99.

The death of Sir James Edgar, speaker of the house of commons, was announced in the house last evening by the premier, who paid a graceful and eloquent tribute to his late friend and party colleague. Hon. G. E. Foster, in the absence of Sir Charles Tupper, spoke for the opposition in a like strain, and although expressions of sympathy are not as customary on Mr. Foster's tongue as sarcasm, he acquitted himself most creditably. In the case of both the premier and the acting leader of the opposition the strength of their expression lay in their evident deep feeling on the occasion; accentuated by the universal respect in which the late speaker was held. When he first assumed the speakership in 1896 it was noticed that he did not look to be in good health, although naturally a strong and vigorous man. There is no question that the conscientious discharge of the duties of his office prejudicially affected his health to a very great degree, and certainly hastened if it did not cause his death. On the announcement of the speaker's death the house adjourned until three o'clock to-day. A new speaker will then be elected.

Mr. Flint's prohibition resolution was discussed on Friday last at great length, without a vote being reached, however. The debate was adjourned without a discussion, on motion of Mr. Lemuel, and as the end of the session is close at hand and half the business is yet to be transacted, there is no possibility of its coming up again. It may be mentioned that even when notice was first given it was too late to come up in its regular order and it was allowed to be brought up on Friday by special arrangement with the government.

Mr. Flint's resolution embodied the conclusion reached by a meeting of representatives of the Dominion temperance alliance in conjunction with members of parliament held in Ottawa some months ago. It was an attempt to get over the difficulty of being put in the position of demanding the coercion of Quebec without passing legislation that would specifically except Quebec from its operations. This was reached by adopting the principle of the Scott act, but applying it by provinces instead of counties. Prohibition under federal authority was to be put in force in any province voting for it. The vote to be taken at the time of a general election. An amendment was moved by McClure declaring for national prohibition in response to the mandate of the plebiscite. An amendment to the amendment was moved by Parnes taking the ground that the vote and majority for prohibition were not sufficient to warrant the passage of a prohibitory law. A large number spoke for and against the several proposals. Several conservatives who declared themselves to be temperance men said they would vote against all of them. They were clearly much more anxious to put the government in a difficult position than to advance the cause of temperance. Altogether the discussion was fruitless on account of a vote not being reached.

Recently two of the late and busy days of the session were taken up by the discussion of the question of preferential trade as understood and approved by the opposition. In the course of the debate it was made tolerably clear that their position is not to give any tariff preference to British trade in Canada until and unless Britain gives a tariff preference to Canadian trade from Britain. While this looks perfectly fair as a form of words, the fact that Britain's chief purchases from Canada are food, while Canada's chief purchases from Britain are manufactures, makes all the difference in the world. As Canada is an importer of manufactures she can well afford to lower the duty on such imports coming from Britain. As Britain is an importer of food the case would be exactly similar if Britain were in a position and desired to lower the duty on food imported from Canada to a point below that levied on food imported from other countries. But as Britain now levies no duty on food imports the only way she can give Canada a preference is to impose a duty on food coming from other countries. As Canada only supplies a small part of the total food requirements of Britain the granting of such a preference would mean an increase in the cost of food to the British public. Britain's commercial, industrial and financial greatness rests on her manufactures.

Cheap food is the basis of cheap production, and is alone what enables the British manufacturer to hold his place in competition with the world. To ask that the cost of food in Britain be increased is to ask that a blow be struck at Britain's industrial and therefore commercial and financial supremacy which involves her national existence. It would seem that in making such a demand on Britain in consideration of a preference for British manufactures in Canada, the opposition were ensuring the safety of their particular friends the Canadian manufacturers while ostensibly trying to secure a better market for Canadian farmers. Even supposing their propositions were accepted by Britain, and the food of 40,000,000 of people were taxed in order that cheaper manufactures might be purchased by 5,000,000, if thereby Britain becomes less able to hold her industrial supremacy—as must necessarily be the case—her purchasing power would be proportionately contracted and she would not be as good a customer for Canadian farm products as she is to-day on the high tide of prosperity, the result very largely of free trade in food for her myriad artisans.

Amongst the government bills awaiting attention is one to provide for the construction of 35 miles of railway in Prince Edward Island as a government work.

The main estimates have been put through and the supplementaries started on. There was considerable discussion yesterday on a vote of $2,000 for seed grain for the half-breed colony of St. Paul de Metis, at Egg lake, east of Saddle lake. Hughes, conservative, moved to strike the item out, but the motion was defeated.

A vote of $25,000 was agreed to for the relief of stranded Klondikers on the Liard and Dease rivers. The information on the subject was very scanty and indefinite. The minister of interior said that relief could not leave Glenora by pack train until June 1st. Arrangements had been made with the Hudson's Bay Company to convey the relief and bring out the prospectors. No official report had yet been received. A news report had been received that some prospectors had been brought out by another trading company. Prior asked that this company be compensated for its work in this connection as well as the Hudson's Bay Company. Oliver said that from information he had received direct from the district affected the reports current in the papers were altogether exaggerated, particularly as to scarcity of food. There was no doubt and the victims needed help. He had a letter from Dawson, dated June 24th, which mentioned the safe arrival there of a number of men who had wintered in the region where the destitution was said to exist, and they made no mention of either destitution or sickness. The item passed without further discussion.

OTTAWA, Aug. 3, '99.

The ceremony of the election and installment of a new speaker took place on Tuesday afternoon. The choice fell upon Thos. Bain, M. P., for South Wentworth, and received the universal commendation of the house. Mr. Bain has been in parliament continuously since '71. He is a wide reader, deep thinker and able speaker. A man of cool head and sound judgment. A very decided, but not bitter party man. He is considered to represent what may be called the best element of the liberal party. Originally a farmer for a number of years past he has retired from farm life and now resides in Hamilton. He assumed the duties of his high office with the simple dignity which is a leading feature of his character and deportment.

A resolution of sympathy with the outlanders of the Transvaal was moved on Monday by the premier and seconded by Hon. Geo. E. Foster, for the opposition, Sir Charles Tupper being absent. The resolution was carried unanimously. It may not be quite apparent at first what particular object was to be gained by the Canadian parliament resolving regarding something as to which they had no right of direction. Canada is at once the largest and the weakest link in Britain's chain of Empire around the world. When there is a possibility of a strain being put upon this chain in its South African link, it is desirable that it should be known beforehand whether or not the Canadian link is likely to stand the strain applied. Canada is an evidence of the fair play with which people other than British are treated in British domains; which is all that Britain in the present crisis is asking for her people in the Transvaal.

On Wednesday an opportunity was given Sir Charles Tupper to speak on the railway subsidies before leaving for England. He endorsed everything especially mentioning the Quebec bridge, the Quebec South Shore railway and the St. Andrew's rapids improvement. He scored the government on their promises of economy while in opposition and their allegation of corrupt motives in the granting of railway subsidies. Sir Charles left for England on Wednesday afternoon.

In the railway committee Hon. Mr. Blair withdrew the clause in his proposed amendment to the railway act which gave the government power to compel a railway company receiving subsidy to locate its stations subject to the decision of the government. This provision had been opposed throughout by the C. P. R. and by Sir Charles Tupper on behalf of that company. The minister explained that at a formal interview between Sir Charles and himself the former had stated that he would exhaust every resource to prevent the passage of the provision. This meant that if the clause was to be passed the session would be indefinitely prolonged. Arrangements had been made to close the session within the next few days. Under this compulsion of Sir Charles Tupper and his lieutenants he would move the withdrawal of the clause. Hon. John Haggart, ex-minister of railways, was present and accepted the explanation of the minister as correct.

THE LINDLEY CO.

A continuous performance is on at the Robertson Hall during the day the bill is charged with a crime the penalty of which is death, and in the evening the judge's desk and tables are removed, the stage arranged and farce and laughter take the place of legal quibble and slow routine. The change from a murder trial to a farce Lindley performance is certainly a great one—and a great improvement. Mr. Lindley and his company opened last night with the comedy "Woman against Woman" and were greeted with a large and well pleased audience. The play may not be new to Edmonton, but it is good enough to stand repetition, and as Mr. Lindley is always successful and as his support was good, need less to say the performance was a success. If a satisfied audience is a good advertisement, the company should have a crowded house to-night. The inter-act specialties were exceptionally good.

To-night the company put on "A Tender-foot Diva." To-morrow night, "Everybody's Friend," and conclude their engagement on Saturday by the production of "Our Boy" and "A Grocery Store."

MAIN'S CIRCUS.

Walter L. Main's circus will arrive on Monday next and give one performance only in the afternoon, at the south side. The press and public are loud in their praise of the entertainment provided by Mr. Main. Edmonton men who witnessed the show in Medicine Hat wrote to their friends here advising them to take it in as it was "as good as Barnum & Bailey" though not so large. Wonderful to relate of a circus they give what they advertise. Their performance is moral and orderly, free of takes of all descriptions, and we believe that it is in every way worthy of public patronage.

WELL PLEASED DELEGATES.

We, the undersigned delegates from Iowa and Indiana, do hereby certify that we have examined the northern part of Alberta from Red Deer to Fort Saskatchewan and find that the soil is a good rich black loam with a clay subsoil. So far as we have been able to learn this district has abundant and reasonable rainfall. Good water at a depth of 18 to 90 feet. Crops of wheat, oats, barley, potatoes and all garden stuff greatly exceeded our expectations, or any such crops in our respective states. We find these grains to be of a very superior quality and very large yields. We saw fields of wheat which in our judgment would yield not less than 40 bushels to the acre, oats that would yield 75 bushels, barley 50 bushels. Potatoes simply exceed anything we ever saw. We talked with farmers who told us they thrashed 55 bushels of wheat and over 100 bushels of oats per acre. It is a cattle country. For persons of limited means, or no means, we know of no better place than Northern Alberta.

INDIAN MURDER TRIAL.

The charge of murder preferred against Pay-u and Nappa-Souses of Lesser Slave lake, commenced on Tuesday before Mr. Justice Rouleau. The Indians stand charged with the murder of Moose-Toos, one of their tribe, at the lake about the 1st of April last. The facts are briefly that Moose Toos became insane, or "wehtigo" as the Indians term it, and his tribesmen killed him as it was their custom with all who got in that condition. After killing him they decapitated and otherwise mutilated the body. Shortly after Corp. Phillips, arrived from Lesser Slave lake and arrested those implicated, namely, Nappa-Sousis, Pay-u and Chuck-a-Chuck. On the way in Chuck-a-Chuck died and was buried at the Landing and, owing to his death—his or other evidence being necessary before the crown could proceed—Corp. Phillips was compelled to return to the lake for other witnesses before the preliminary hearing of the case could be proceeded with. On the arrival of the other witnesses a few weeks ago, the hearing came off and the accused were committed for trial. At the preliminary hearing the evidence of the witnesses was very clear and to the point and the evidence against the accused seemed quite conclusive. At the hearing of the case now, however, the witnesses are inclined to tell another story, and they are troubled with that peculiar failing of witnesses—a bad memory. The following jury was empaneled: H. Moller, J.D. Clarke, L. A. Waters, H. Pratt, F. Hoasthede, D. Kimber. Up to last night only five witnesses had been examined; viz.: Corp. Phillips, Dr. Wilson, an Indian and two squaws. Corp. Phillips testified as to the arrest and finding of the body and the decapitated head with a number of axe gashes in it. The Indians as witnesses to the deed gave evidence as to the murder, but were inclined to give Chuck-a-Chuck (who had died at the Landing) the credit of striking the first blow with the axe. Dr. Wilson gave expert evidence as to whether the blows, as they had been described by the witnesses, would, in his opinion, be sufficient to cause death or not, and deplored that they might or might not cause death. With Dr. Wilson's evidence the crown's case closed, but on the application of the prisoners' counsel the court directed that the prosecutor should also call as witnesses all the other Indians who were present at the murder and who would, therefore, be likely to give material evidence. These witnesses are being examined to-day, after which the defence will open their case.

Throughout the hearing of the case the prisoners preserve a stolid, though not indifferent demeanor; their faces express nothing though their eyes follow intently every movement of the case. Pay-u is an undersized, ordinary looking Indian, but Nappa-Sousis is noticeable for his size. He is a splendid looking specimen of humanity over six feet tall, and of great breath and depth of chest, and apparently possessed of great strength.

N. D. Beck, Q. C., crown prosecutor, is conducting the prosecution, and C.

do W. MacDonald defending the accused. J. Sinclair is interpreter.

NORTH STURGEON.

C. B. Cornelle, B. A., successor to Mr. Galloway as missionary on the Sturgeon circuit preached in the North Sturgeon Methodist church on Sunday, Aug. 6th.

Rev. C. B. Freeman, of Edmonton, and Rev. McQuarrie, pastor of Sturgeon Baptist church, exchanged pulpits on Sunday, Aug. 6th.

Excelsior school is completed; it is a credit to the settlement. It is built of frame, painted inside and out and furnished with new "Ideal" seats and desks purchased from McIntosh & White-law. What a contrast to the old log dwelling and rickety seats. Surely our teacher, Mr. McKittrick and his pupils will feel proud in their new school and they will not now be ashamed to entertain visitors.

A traded a calf to B; B traded the calf to C who living in town, when the calf heard of its intended visit to town it fell sick and died for it wished to be buried in the country. Pleasant: Resolved that country life is pleasanter than town life. (to calves). To be debated at Bon Accord literary society.

Homestead and C. P. R. land is still open two miles from Excelsior school and 19 miles from Edmonton.

At Mr. Putnam's picnic grounds on the afternoon of Saturday, Aug. 5th, the Sturgeon baseball club were defeated by the Edmonton team. Pitcher Steve Samis has not fully recovered from his accident in the game at Strathcona fair. The Sturgeon boys know how to play, but they are sadly out of practice.

The Sturgeon river football team had challenged the Sunnyside football team to a friendly match on the same grounds at 7 p. m. Though the challenge had been accepted still only five Sunnyside men came. So the Sturgeon team won by default.

Sunnyside also defaulted to the Fort Saskatchewan team on July 29th. Is Sunnyside football club dead or only asleep? A football team had come out from Edmonton in combination with the baseball team so a game was arranged with a team chosen from the Sunnyside and Sturgeon clubs. Being late it was agreed to play only 40 minutes. When time was called the scored stood 1 to 0 in favor of Edmonton.

This was the first real match for the Sturgeon football team; some of them never played in a match game before. Any football team wishing a friendly game should correspond with John Payzant, secretary Sturgeon football club, Edmonton, P. O.

Strawberries are plentiful. Saskatoons are ripe. Raspberries are reddening. Who are going north to pick cranberries and huckleberries? Several horses are sick—some have died. Why not have a combined monster picnic somewhere in the Sturgeon settlement in aid of the new Edmonton hospital, say on labor day, Monday, Sept. 4th?

This would give the settlement credit for what they do, while as it is all the assistance given goes to the credit of the town people. Let someone interested call a meeting for some night soon, say in Namsa school or one of the churches, when committees could be appointed and the affair made a success, by a sufficient preparation. Labor day being a holiday, the town people could attend and a programme of games, sports, speeches, etc., etc., would draw a crowd, while refreshments and meals could be sold to raise money. What think ye of it?

LACOMBE.

Quite a pretty wedding took place last Thursday evening, the 3rd, at the residence of C. Switzer, Esq., when his daughter became Mrs. George Story. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Michener. This makes two weddings which have taken place at C. Switzer's during the last month. The Epworth League will give a lawn social in the honor of the two brides on the 9th.

Dr. McCullough, of Buffalo lake, has arrived home from the Peace river country. He will take up his residence on his ranch.

Mr. Glanville and Mr. McDougall have sold their farms and moved away, the former to Ontario and the latter to Dakota.

Mr. Lynch has taken a trip to Seattle on a prospecting tour.

Mrs. W. Matthias and son are away on a visit to friends in Ontario and Quebec.

Miss Archibald, of Halifax, N.S., arrived last week to visit her sister, Mrs. W. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore, of Hobbema, spent Sunday in Lacombe.

A service was held in the Methodist church under the auspices of the Baptist brethren and on the 30th a service was held in the same church by an Episcopal clergyman for the benefit of that church.

Mr. W. Puffer and Mrs. Moreton gave two very pleasant parties for the youthful portion of our town.

Several insurance agents have been visiting us in the interests of the different companies.

A high wind visited us on the 23rd, making great havoc with the new agricultural hall.

Repairs have been made so that now it is again used for a temporary school room.

A meeting of the school officials resulted in a decision to build the new school house with four rooms; wood on a stone foundation.

Three teachers are required now and not many years when more will have to be employed.

C. Daykin is attending high court of I. O. F. in Calgary.

SPORTS AT THE STURGEON.

Last Saturday afternoon, the baseball and football teams of Edmonton drove out to the Sturgeon, and at Patnam's grove, in friendly combat, met and defeated the Sturgeon players. As shown by the score the first five innings were very close and the playing of both teams was splendid. Samis, who was in the box for the Sturgeon men, was a host in himself and during the first part of the game Edmonton's hits were few and far between. Bellamy for Edmonton pitched well, but the team's strength showed best in field where some exceptionally fine work was done. The flies were invariably caught and by dint of all around sharp fielding and playing hardly a man reached first. At the end of the 5th innings the teams were seven all. After that Edmonton forged ahead, making seven runs in the one innings and thereafter kept the lead, eventually winning by 38 to 14.

The players were:

The score by innings was:
Edmonton, 1 1 0 4 1 7 10 5 9—38
Sturgeon, 1 2 0 0 4 0 4 3 0—14

After the baseball match was concluded a football team was picked up and a game was played between the visiting and home teams. In this, also, the visitors were victors, by a score of 1 to 0.

The visitors were entertained at a splendid supper prepared by the ladies of the settlement, and a very pleasant afternoon and evening was spent.

CAMILLA.

Haying seems to be the order of the day, although the weather is none of the best for that work. Crops are looking splendid as the recent hail and wind storms have past by without visiting these parts, and it is to be hoped that they will continue to do so.

The pic nic was a great success, although the home teams of baseball and football were defeated by the visiting teams of Edmonton. The football match was well contested by the players of both sides, Edmonton winning 1 goal to 0. The boys say a harder and faster game will have to be played next time as Camilla's boys were handicapped for want of practice.

Messrs. Alex. McDougall and Donald A. McLeod returned from the north a few days ago, where they had been working on the Edmonton and Slave lake trail, and report abundance of rain in that district.

Miss Maggie McGillis of Edmonton was the guest of her parents last week. A. F. R. F. McKittrick is visiting friends in the neighborhood.

A number of young people of this place attended the fall fair at Strathcona and report that the show was good for this season of the year as it was held a little too early to suit the products of the farm.

THE NEW TRANSCONTINENTAL LINE.

The Toronto Globe, in its issue of the 4th publishes an outline map of the proposed new transcontinental railway, and says:

The development of the Canadian west has been so rapid and the possibilities of the future are so great, that to-day a project is under way which, when complete, will give another great transcontinental system opening up a stretch of territory in its western sections far to the north of

C. P.R. A glance at the accompanying map shows the general outline of the Canada Northern, as it will probably be called, and gives some idea of the extent to which it has been planned out. Commencing at Portage la Prairie, the heavy black line running west shows the Canada Northern or Dauphin railway, as it was formerly called. It is built already into the Swan river country, and a subsidy has been granted to permit of its extension to Prince Albert, on the Saskatchewan river. West from Prince Albert the location of the proposed line is shown by dot and dash to Edmonton. It occupies the fertile valley of the Saskatchewan, which produces as fine crops as any part of the Northwest. From Edmonton westerly a subsidy has been given for 50 miles, shown on the map by a thin line. Permission has also been given to occupy the Yellowhead Pass through the Rockies. The road will then follow the valley of the upper Fraser through the rich mining region of Cariboo and reach the Pacific at Port Simpson, which is said to be a magnificent natural harbor.
